

Scan Router Professional

Version 2.0

More and more information comes to us in digital format. The reason for this is the advantages digital information has. It can be sent quickly and easily around the globe, within a network or into a document management system. The digital information can be integrated in our current workflow, making our lives easier without changing the way we work. The digital information can be easily searched, retrieved and used by the members of the workgroup. The ScanRouter™ Professional solution doesn't only make the user's life easier but also the administrator's. The software doesn't have to be installed on every PC, because all PCs with an Internet browser can access the information. The system can also be remotely configured and maintained so you never have to leave your seat, at least not for ScanRouter™ Professional.
